Previously, the children here didn't have an appropriate building for their education. As soon as the school was opened in the Fall, they began to attend.

With the start of the new academic year, every morning, the children will awake and excitedly get ready for school. The building, with its solidly constructed brick walls, airy classrooms and courtyard will welcome them to a day of study, play and growth.

Whenever the teachers write on the blackboard, the words will come to life for students and they will absorb them, learn and blossom. And a picture of your dear sister will watch over them learn throughout the day.

We are so grateful that you selected us to receive your contribution to needy children in our country. God bless you and your family for your generosity.
